COLORADO AND GILA VALLEYS.

In the valleys of the Colorado and Gila rivers there is room for thousands. It is not too much to say that nowhere within the limits of this broad union can be found a more desirable region for the making of a home. No laborious clearing of the land is required; it lies almost ready for the plow. Trees and shrubbery have so rapid a growth that within eighteen months the immigrant can surround his abode with attractions which would require years to mature in less favored climates. Fruits ripen and are ready for the market a full month before the California products. The bright sunshine makes life a luxury, and the pure dry atmosphere brings health to all who inhale it. For the establishment of colonies, such as are made in Southern California, Arizona presents unrivaled opportunities. Thousands of acres now profitless can be made productive by the construction of irrigating ditches, and there is no investment which assures larger and more permanent return.

The statements in this article on Yunn county are not exaggerated; in fact they fall short of dainy instine to this wonderful bit of country In the valleys of the Colorado and Gila rivers

The statements in this article on Yunn county are not exaggerated; in fact they fall short of doing justice to this wonderful bit of country Pincapples, dates, almonds and walnuts will do well. Strawberries, raspberries, biackberries, currants, gooseberries and all varieties of small fruits can be successfully cultivated. Indeed, Yunna county is not only the natural home of the citrus and semitropical fruits, as almost every fruit, nut, plant grain, grass, or vegetable which can be produced in either tropic of the temperate zones will thrive in the rich and fertile soils.

almost every fruit, nut, plant, grain, grass, or vegetable which can be produced in either tropic of the temperate zones will thrive in the rich and fertile soils.

With the bright prospects ahead of the town of Yuma and Yuma county there can be no better lavestment for cupital seeking large and remunerative returns than is afforded hore. With a matchless climate, where all forms of disease known to the damp and rigorous regions of the east and north are unknown, where the bright sunshine kisse into bloom and fragrance every form of vegetation, and where the clear days and cool baimy nights are one long continued poem of happiness and delight, we can offer to capitalists an ideal field for investment and to homesechers a veritable paradise in which to settle.

The soil of these valleys is among the richest on the continent. It is formed of the detritus which the streams for ages have brought down from their mountain homes in their journey to the sea. By constant overflows and change of channel, the deposit of this rich vegetable matter has formed a soil of extreme fertility. Near the streams it is a dark alluvial mold, well adapted to small grains and grasses. Farther back there is a rich sandy loam, mellow and porous, and especially favorable for fruit culture. It has been already demonstrated that the productive capacity of these valleys is not surpassed by lands of equal area in any part of the United States. So rapid and prolific is the growth of the fruits, cereais and vegetables that the labor of the cultivator is reduced to the minimum, In nearly all of them two crops a year can be grown, and vegetation is one month head of California. The farmer plants a cottonwood saping before his door, and within the year he has a shade tree twenty-ive feet high! Alialfa can be cut six times during the season, and it is an actual fact that grape cuttings have produced within eighteen months! What state or territory can make such a showing? The climate, it must be remembered, is nearly perpetual summer. Snow never fal

Irrigation Work for Colorado River Assured.

Speaking of the Colorado river irrigation project, Engineer Arthur P. Davis said to a Phoenix Republican representative:

"After the examination and rejection of many sites along that stream a site has finally been selected at the lowest point of the river where good rock abutments could be secured and which is some distance above Yuma. The dam will be about 4700 feet long and water will be diverted on both sides of the river, both in California and Arizona."

The Colorado river project is a monster undertaking and will be very expensive, but compensating results are anticipated. The people of this valley are more fortunately situated in that in the Colorado project three things will have to be done, while here there is but one. The store in that city the other day, Tonto is a simple storage enter. noticed a sign which read: "Cast prise, while on the Colorado, be. Iron Sinks." The old fellow sides the storage, levees will have chuckled softly to himself, then to be built along the river and a gradually, as the absurdity of it system of drainage will have to dawned upon him more forcibly, be developed, for some of the he broke into a loud guffaw. A lands are so flat that otherwise passerby, attracted by the apalkali would accumulate. This parently unseemly mirth of the makes added expense, and the old man, made bold to ask what Colorado people will have to amused him so. "Why, gol durn stand an expense of probably it," he sputtered between spasms, $35 an acre to secure what they "ef some folks air not gittin' ter want, against about half that be reg'lar durn fules. ## Shocking!

A certain newspaper man, who has the reputation of being rather brilliant on occasions, attended a function in Washington recently where the hostess was known to be clever at repartee. When the journalist-he was entitled to be called a journalist, because he had reached that stage in his career where, when he goes to interview a great man, he puts in the interview what he said to the man rather than what the man said to himwhen this journalist was about they cannot raise their crops to take his leave, he went to the hostess to say good night.

Before he could express the pleasure which the evening had afforded him, the hostess said: "Now don't say anything conventional. I'm tired of platitudes." "I won't," he replied. "I'll say I have had a h-l of a good time."

"I'm d-n glad of it," replied the hostess.-Washington Post.
